WORK OF THE CLIQUE

TRADING ON NEW YORK 'CHANGE ENTIRELY PROFESSIONAL.

Fluctuations Were Narrow and Largely Manipulated-Indianapolis Markets Holding Steady.

At New York, yesterday, money was easy at I per cent.

Prime mercantile paper, 2% 24 per cent. Sterling exchange was heavy, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.87%@4.87% for demand and at $4.86% for sixty days; posted rates, $4.87@4.871/2 and $4.88@4.881/2; commercial bills, $4.85@4.851/4.

Silver certificates, 63%c. Bar silver closed at 63c per ounce; Mexican dollars, 50%c. Total sales of stock were 168,901 shares, including: American Sugar, 52,900; Burlington, 12,700; Chicago Gas, 7,100; Distilling, 8,000; Manhattan Consols, 5,300; Northwest, 6,100; Rock Island, 11,400; St. Paul, 17,300; Western Union, 10,400.

Very little importance is to be attached to yesterday's stock market. It was dull and unsettled throughout the day, and closed irregular. There were no large operators in the field, and prices were moved one way or the other by small cliques, who desired to put out some small lines of shorts or to cover their short contracts. There was no opportunity for any very profitable arbtrage trading, and London was not a factor in the market. There was considerable speculation throughout the day as to dividend on Burlington & Quincy. The directors were to have met in Boston this morning, but the meeting was put over until to-morrow. The stock was bought at the opening in expectation that the dividend would be declared, advancing %, but reacted when the meeting was put over, and gradually declined to 72%, a break of 1% from the high point of the morning, with a final recovery of %. The other granger shares moved sympathetically, Northwest being also unfavorably affected by reports that it is doubtful whether the egular dividend on the common stock will be declared at the directors' meeting called for the 27th instant. The stock rose 1/4. dropped 1% and rallied 1/4. Rock Island ad vanced 1/4, sold off 1% and regained 1/2 at the close. St. Paul moved within narrower limits; opening unchanged, it rose ½, receded 1 and recovered ¼; the preferred made a loss of 1 per cent. The addition of a transfer system by the Manhattan railway, which it is expected will increase its traffic, induced buying of the company stock in the morning, resulting in an advance of 1 per cent. % per cent, of which vance of 1 per cent, % per cent, of which had been lost at the close. The general market was strong during the first hall hour, and then became heavy, continuing in hour, and then became heavy, continuing in that tone until noon, when speculation assumed a steadier attitude. There was very little movement from that hour until about 2:15, when prices sagged off, only to rally slightly in the final trading, and the market closed steady to firm. In a majority of cases prices are below the final figures of Monday, the declines above a fraction being: St. Paul & Omana, 1½; Northwest 1½, and Rock Island, St. Paul preferred and Consolidated Gas, 1 per cent. Toledo & Ohio Central shows a gain of 2 per cent.; Louisville & New Albany preferred, 2½; Delaware & Lackawanna, 1½; Delaware & Hudson, ¾, and New Jersey Central, ½ per cent.

The bond market was, in the main, firm roughout the day on a moderate volume business. The sales were $1,196,500, with of business. The sales were $1,196,500, with the heaviest trading in Southern fives and Atchison fours. Advances—Consumers
Gas, of Chicago, firsts, 4 per cent.; New York & Putnam firsts and Richmond &
Danville debenture fives, stamped, 2½; For Wayne thirds, 2; St. Paul firsts, Iowa &
Minnesota division, 1%, and Toledo, Peoria & Western firsts and Union Pacific collat eral trust sixes, 1 per cent. Declines—
Kansas Pacific consol sixes, Missouri Pacific thirds, 1 per cent. cific thirds, 1 per cent.
Government bonds were steady, State bonds inactive and railroad bonds firm.

The Pardoning of Cooprider. To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal: In to-day's issue of the Journal an article appears relative to the pardon of Charles Cooprider, who killed Thomas Kress in July, 1893. The article in question is so partial and erroneous that, in justice to the widow and orphans and members of the Kress family, the writer desires to make the following statement. The writer of said article says "that for two months the men avoided each other, but finally met in Brazil, when Kress met Cooprider and approached him, holding a heavy cane in a menacing position, and Cooprider, thinking his life in danger, fired the fatal shot."

The writer who made this statement was efther wrongly informed or purposely wished to screen the parties who have succeeded in thwarting justice. The evidence in the case, as brought brought out at Cooprider's trial, showed that the two men met in the road between Middlebury and Clay City, and that they passed a few angry words and separated, Kress going to he procured a revolver and went over to Middlebury and seated himself in front of a grocery. In a short time Kress returned and the quarrel was renewed. Kress made the remark "Charlie, I am not afraid to sit down by you," and seated himself by Cooprider's side. In the course of the quarrel Cooprider said, "Tom, — you, you are a big man, but if you want to fight me, get up," and they both rose to their feet, when Cooprider immediately began shooting, and fired three shots in rapid succession. He then ran out in the forest shot. All of the shots took effect, one of the balls striking Kress in the back. The evidence also showed that Kress had no The writer of the article referred to states that "Cooprider was given two trials, and that the jury returned a verdict in the econd trial of two years." This is another misleading statement. The facts are the jury returned a verdict of two years on the first trial, and Cooprider asked and was granted a new trial, but before the time for the new trial arrived Cooprider withdrew his application and went to prison, thereby acknowledging by his own voluntary act that he believed his sentence was just, or, if not just, as short as he could expect to get on a second trial. How Governor Matthews, in the face of the evidence in this case, and in total disregard of the above facts, could grant a pardon, certainly is a mystery. It is a notorious fact that the mmediate relatives of Kress have never known that there was a movement on foot to procure the pardon of Cooprider, and the article in your issue of the 19th inst. leads the writer to believe that the whole proceedings relative to a pardon in this case have been conducted in an underhand manner in order to prevent, if possible, the facts in this case from being fully presented to Governor Matthews. The writer of this article bears no malice toward Cooprider, but on the contrary he and Cooprider have always been the warmest of friends, and, while he deeply regrets the tragedy that has blurred the fair name of two of Clay county's foremost families. he ruly feels that justice should prevail to the dead as well as the living. S. F. AULD.

Liquor Law Violations. To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal: Under the heading "As to the Liquor Laws" your correspondent, "U L See." says some very good things in your issue of the 19th inst. I hope our legislators will give them due consideration. I will say, by way of addition to what he has said so well, that if the license laws are to remain in force each man who is granted a license should be required to take and subscribe an oath, and the same should be indorsed on his bond that he "would faithfully and honestly observe and obey the requirements of the laws then in force upon the subject of vending intoxicating liquors;" that he "would not willfully violate any of their provisions nor knowingly permit others to do so by selling any of his liquors." For such violations let there be a forfeiture of license and the full penalty of the bond, and let the offender be punished for will-ful perjury the same as for perjury in any other matter. It seems to me, with such safeguards against violations of the law. the men who would engage in such traffic would be very careful to observe the law to the letter and in the spirit, and there would be very few violations, for the reason that there would be too much at stake to risk for the very small gain to be ob-tained. CHICAGO GRAIN EASY

FAIR DEMAND FOR WHEAT AT THE CLOSE, WITH MAY 3-Se DOWN.

Corn Averaged Weak, but Closed at a Small Advance-Provisions Were Heavy and Declined.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.-Business in wheat to-day was light and confined to local scalpers for the most part. The feeling was weak, but at %c per bu decline there was a fair demand at the close. Corn averaged weak, but closed 1/3c higher than on the day before. Provisions were very heavy, and declined 271/2c for pork, .15c for lard and 124c for ribs.

The effect of yesterday's heavy sales of long wheat was continued at the opening. The first sales of May were at from 601/2c to 60%c, and in about an hour the value had been reduced to 60c. Foreign markets were not quite so firm in tone, but displayed no indication of radical weakness such as prevailed here. The price recovered on the dry weather reports and cash business reported from the seaboard. May rose to 601/c, again tumbled to 601/sc and in the last half hour was about steady close to 60%c. The close of the market was fairly steady at 60%c for May and 55%c for December, or %c lower than on the day be-Corn had one or two spurts of activity, but as a rule it was a dull session. The market had a rather heavy undertone, although supported by estimates of only 350 car loads for to-morrow's receipts. To-day's inspection was 742 cars, compared with 820 estimated yesterday. The business done in the first half hour was fairly good, with sellers in the majority, and at from 1/3c to 1/4c under yesterday's closing price, but at 49c there was a good demand to cover shorts, and in the end the market recovered its early loss and gained %c in addition. At the close the price stood at 49%c. There was very little interest in the oats market. Fluctuations were governed by corn and confined to a narrow range. There was enough stir in provisions to keep brokers alert. The opening was marked by heavy selling by packers and foreign houses. All products got a sharp break. The close was at about bottom figures. Estimated receipts for to-morrow: Wheat, 140 cars; corn, 350 cars; oats, 90 cars; hogs,

To Stop Illegal Liquor Selling.

To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal: It is very evident from the opinions expressed through the columns of the Journal that the Legislature will be called upon to amend the present laws regulating the sale of intoxicants. The very fact that a business must be regulated in the way that the sale of intoxicating liquors is sought to be regulated is convincing argument that the greatest care should be exercised in the licensing of men to sell, and since it is evident that well-meaning county boards are often at the mercy of designing and dishonest men in the matter of establishing an applicant's fitness to be intrusted with a license, it seems that the remedy must reach beyond this. As one who has been called upon to prosecute offenders of this character I have learned that one of the greatest difficulties the authorities encounter is the provision which requires them to proceed against the individual who makes the illegal sale. I would therefore make the party in whose name the license is issued responsible for all sales made under the license, and in order to make this especially important to the parties in-terested I would make a second violation of law a sufficient cause for a revocation of license and a future bar to the issuing of license to the same person. I can in my imagination hear the cry that this would be unreasonable legislation, but if it is the saloon keepr and the men they employ are the responsible parties, and the remedy lies with them if they will apply it. I know that every man who sells does not violate law, and that such are ready to have the laws enforced, but the great majority of saloon keepers who violate law are driving the conservators of law and morality to extremes to protect and en-force the rights of the commonwealth.
